8th Annual Medical Team Visit to Cochabamba March 5 - March 17, 2013

For the eighth year, a group of surgeons has traveled to Cochabamba, Bolivia to perform many surgeries on children with severe burn scars. Team members this year were:

Carlos A Vargas M.D., Team Director, Chairman of the Health Subcommittee; Malcolm Marks M.D., Chairman of the Plastic Surgery Dep. School of Medicine, Wake Forest University (WFU), NC ; Benson Timmons, M.D. Plastic Surgeon, Gastonia, NC; William Todd Stoeckel, M.D., Plastic Surgeon, Cary, NC; Benjamin C. Wood, M.D., Chief Resident, Plastic Surgery, School of Medicine, WFU; Clayton Crantford, M.D., Chief Resident, Plastic Surgery, School of Medicine, WFU; Katherine I. Habenicht, M.D., Chief Resident, Surgery, School of Medicine, WFU; Keyla Duin RN, Burn Center, WFU; Natalia Zapata, Nurse Assistant-Translator; Lara Marks, Translator; Gregory Timmons, Premed College Student; Brock Weston, Premed College Student

← Inaugural Ceremony

Carlos arrived to La Paz early, to finalize preparations for the team arrival: purchase of La Paz-Cbba-Santa Cruz tickets, Immigration and Customs arrangements, telephone cards purchases, and meetings regarding the Autism Project with Alianza Bolivia –Utah (Utah-La Paz POA chapter). Rosario Mengoa, president La Paz-Utah chapter and Carlos had a meeting with Lic.

Casto Villarreal, Director of the International Relations of the Ministry of Health. Vargas described the phases of the Autism project and Rosario will follow up.

On Saturday the team arrived at 5:30 am. After settling in at La Casona hotel, and a bit of rest, in the afternoon they went to Lake Titicaca. They took a boat to Pariti Island where they visited a small archeological museum.

On Sunday morning, the team traveled to Cochabamba. Rosario Claros, Cochabamba Partners president, Marlene Mercado, past-president, Janet Morales, and Victor Morales, executive secretary of the CBBA POA, welcomed us. The team checked in at the Hotel de La

Torre. The team and some members of the Cochabamba partners had lunch at the restaurant La Gaviota (Angostura). That evening was a welcome Reception and Investment of the new Cochabamba Partners Board of Directors at the Centro Boliviano-Americano. The members of the team were introduced.

The team arrived at the Burn Center on Monday with the surgical supplies donated by WFU with an approximate value of $20,000. Patients were scheduled for the next 5 days of surgeries. That morning also was an Inaugural Ceremony attended by hospital and city authorities followed by a press conference.

Monday, 3/11 to Friday 3/15, the surgeons worked every day from 8:00 am to 8.00 pm They operated on 33 patients, performing 100 surgical procedures making a total of 820 surgical procedures over 8 years of visits.

Wednesday and Thursday evenings the third international symposium was presented: "Update of Care of the Burned Patient", organized by the Cbba Partners and the Burn Center. Dr. Marks, Dr. Timmons, Dr. Stoeckel, Dr. Wood, Dr. Crantford, Ms. Habenicht, Ms. Duin, and professionals from the Burn Center gave lectures to approximately 80 health professionals. Dr. Habenicht and RN Duin also gave lectures at UNITPEC Thursday morning.

In addition, Carlos Vargas and Marlene Mercado met with Sergio Paz M.D., representative of PAHO and World Health Organization (WHO) in Cochabamba. Carlos presented and explained to Dr. Paz the four phases of the Autism Project. He is very interested and promised his assistance to the project. Marlene will follow up.

On a visit to CEDESOL, (Solar Ovens) with Dr. Marks, they discussed with David Whitfield, the importance of the ovens in the prevention of burn injuries.

Friday noon there was closing ceremony at the Burn Center. Certificates were given to the team members by the hospital and the Burn Center. Friday afternoon was a meeting with Marlene Mercado for evaluation of the visit.

The Cochabamba Partners organized a farewell supper at the Miraflores restaurant with entertainment by 2 musical groups. The team members received certificates and souvenirs from the Cbba Partners.

On Saturday the team members left for Santa Cruz visiting the Guenbe Bio Center Park. Sunday was the day to return home to North Carolina.

VEGA (Volunteers for Economic Growth Alliance) Diaspora Volunteer Service Award

The Partners office in Washington suggested that Carlos Vargas would be a good fit for applying for this award. In April, we proposed him for the VEGA Diaspora Volunteer Service Award to be presented to one outstanding volunteer who made a significant impact during his or her assignment. The following selection criteria suggested Carlos as a good candidate:

- The volunteer must identify with a diaspora community and have served in his or her country of origin or heritage within the past two years for a minimum of two weeks.
- The volunteer must have a powerful story to tell about the volunteer experience which should demonstrate lasting impact.
- The volunteer must have achieved measurable results contributing to sustainable development objectives in his or her country of origin that were documented by the volunteer's sending organization.

Although he was not selected, we present information submitted about Carlos and his outstanding work in his home country of Bolivia:

Name of Project: Annual Medical Team visits to Cochabamba, Bolivia

Dates of Volunteer Assignment: Yearly visits of a team of Plastic Surgeons from 2006 to 2013 for one week, usually in early in March of each year.

Volunteer Assignment Description: Organization of teams of volunteer plastic surgeons to perform reconstructive plastic surgical procedures on burned children, at the Pediatric Burn Center of the Viedma Hospital in Cochabamba, Bolivia.

Volunteer Achievement Description:

Dr. Vargas was born in Bolivia. Two years after graduating from Medical School in La Paz, Bolivia, moved with his family to USA. After retiring from private practice he joined the North Carolina-Cochabamba Partners of the Americas chapter. He is a Past President and currently chairman of the Health Subcommittee and member of the board for over 10 years.

For the last 8 years, Dr. Vargas organized annual visits of teams of volunteer plastic surgeons to Cochabamba, Bolivia, to perform reconstructive surgeries on children of indigent families, victims of previous burn injuries.

The preparations start 4 months before the visits, with advice to the medical team members about requirements for travel visas, collecting credentials from each member, following the procedure for authorization by the Bolivian Consulate in Washington of the donations of surgical items needed for the surgeries, obtained by Wake forest University, flight and hotel reservations, pre-selection of patients from photographs sent by the Burn Center and almost daily communication with the Cochabamba volunteers to complete the preparations in Cochabamba.

The number of plastic surgeons members of the team, increased from one surgeon in 2006 to six surgeons in 2013. They are surgeons from the Department of Plastic Surgery of the Medical School at Wake Forest University and other plastic surgeons in private practice in North Carolina. Dr. Malcolm Marks, Chairman of the Department of Reconstructive and Plastic Surgery of the Medical School at Wake Forest University in Winston Salem, NC, joined the team five times. They work in close collaboration with the staff of the Pediatric Burn Center, volunteers of the Cochabamba Partners and a small group of Bolivian physicians that make possible the success of the team visits.

In the eight years of the team visits, the surgeons performed a total of 820 surgical procedures.

The reconstructive surgeries performed by the highly specialized surgeons change the lives of the children--victims of previous burn injuries--and the lives of their families who would not be able to afford the cost of the type of surgeries performed by the team surgeons.

The program will continue in the future, secured by enthusiasm of the visiting surgeons, the staff of the Pediatric Burn Center, the local physicians and the volunteers of the Cochabamba Partners that consider the annual team visit to be their stellar annual project.

Dr. Vargas also helps with the organization of the Annual International Seminars where he also serves as a translator. These are 3 evening seminars attended by local physicians, residents and medical students. The success of these seminars is the result of the close collaboration between the Cochabamba Partners, the Medical School of the San Simon University and the Pediatric Burn Center staff.

Quarterly Board Meeting

The Board meeting was held March 16 at NC A&T University, hosted by Board member Robert Pyle. The board discussed role of Vice President in touching base with subcommittees on a regular basis and also consulting with POA regarding policies for removal of subcommittee calls. Karen will set up a conference call with subcommittees to report in to her. We also discussed writing a document defining committee chair responsibilities which includes a mechanism for accountability and provision for replacement.

We received an inquiry a while back from a Girl Scout in California for assistance in helping her make a connection for a project as a focus for her to gain her Gold Award. Sallie guided her to work with the Audiology Institute to collect reconditioned hearing aids that could continue a project begun years ago, but which has had a hiatus of several years.

Environment & Natural Resources: Christian met with Darren, new chairman for this committee. Darren recently visited D.C. and met Matt Clausen. He has numerous contacts at Duke and UNC and can help with Partners Campus program. He is also associated with Duke's sustainability coordinator.

Domestic Violence: Hank met with Kathy Johnson about her trip and she and Hank are working on preparing a document for future follow-up with organizations in Bolivia and/or Cbba. We will collaborate with Claudia Jimenez, but will seriously work with other agencies such as INFANTE.

Website: Christian gave the board a presentation and tour of the new Drupal website which is hosted on his server. The content management system is very nimble with a lot of features and functions that will be helpful to the organization. Chris will provide Drupal training for the Cbba Partners when he goes in the summer and will issue accounts to committee chairs so that they can independently post announcements, reports and other items.

In the interest of letting members get acquainted with some of the Cochabamba Partners as well, we are presented brief descriptions of them, along with their photo. This was begun last issue of the newsletter, with Rosario Claros, Marlene Mercado, and Silvia Quiroga. In this issue we continue with Monica Niño de Guzman, general Secretary, and Lupe Buendía, Vice President.

Espero conocer más de los proyectos de Partners para poder beneficiar a grupos de personas menos favorecidos, además aprender y mejorar los trabajos de los voluntarios que están activos en Compañeros. Mi plan inicial es proveer de capacitación a los propios miembros de Compañeros aprovechando las diferentes capacidades de los diferentes profesionales que tenemos en la Institución y más adelante generar ingresos para mantenimiento propio de la oficina.

Lupe writes that she is mother of two girls and beloved wife. She has 13 years in her profession as Licensed Psychologist, Magister in Higher Education, with specialty in Human Resources Management and Organizational Psychology.

She has been an active volunteer for 20 years in the Volunteer Rescue Group of Bolivia - S.A.R. "SAR BOLIVIA", She serves as an instructor in different matters for the training of new volunteers and updating skills of other volunteers.

In 2004 the Federación de Instituciones Femeninas gave her Medal of Merit, through volunteer service. In 2007 Federación de Periodistas y Transredes gave national recognition to her as "Worker with Merit" through service as Active Volunteer in "SAR Bolivia" Group.

She was initially involved with Partners as delegate of SAR in the Emergencies Prevention Committee, and later she continued to work in the organization in coordination with the volunteers. This year she accepted the commitment as Vice-president of the Cochabamba Chapter.

Lupe says, "I hope to know more about the projects of Partners to be able to benefit disadvantaged people, in addition to learning and to improving the work of the volunteers who are active in Partners. My initial plan is to provide training to the members of Partners, taking advantage of the different capacities from the different professionals who we have in the Institution, and later to generate income for maintenance of the office.

I have not yet had the opportunity to travel with Partners."

Successful Fundraiser for NCPOA at Belk

In April, Belk Department Stores offered the opportunity to 501c3 charities to participate in a special fundraiser. On Saturday morning, charities sent representatives to sell $5 tickets at the door between 6am and 10am. With this ticket a shopper would receive $5 off a purchase, but that would add to the "pot" for the charities. Sallie Abbas represented NC Partners and our share was over $200!

WHAT WORKS REGIONAL CONFERENCE, COLORADO

Steve Vetter POA President, and Lin Allen, President of the Colorado Chapter

This Colorado Conference is the Launch event for the 50th anniversary of Partners. The theme is - Honor our Legacy; Celebrate the Present; Position for the Future.

Partners is encouraging each chapter to create a history. We already have a wonderful one, covering years from 1974 to the present. The original committee included Carolyn Checkley, Hank Graden, and others.

One program that could be important in all Partnerships is the intention Obama mentioned in a speech to raise student exchange numbers to 100,000 strong students N→S and S→N.

Matt Clausen – Few organization have 50 years of experience, so Partners is remarkable. However, we have been operating as independent or isolated partnerships and we don't necessarily connect well.

Why change now? We are not visible; we can reveal a network that is broader and deeper than is known outside or even inside.

One partnership created a map of who has been benefitted by Partners and how important to them. They were able to obtain 4 times the donations as their goal.

Partnerships need to specifically be taking advantage of benefits, strategies, packages, connection, materials, opportunities, to enrich their organization. One-third don't have robust membership nor collect dues. Steve Vetter stated "Every chapter now chartered could be 10 times as large."

We learned more about PartnersConnect. Chapter benefits – recruitment, membership management, fundraising, communication, share and learn about What Works, Strengthen cross-partnership and cross-chapter collaboration, profile for projects, training.

Benefits for Organizations –Why would an institution of higher education want to join Partners Connect? Many areas of value to them.

Partners is offering many Webinars – examples

>Introduction to PartnersConnect: Individuals, Chapters and Partners Campuses

>PartnersCampus –Engaging Youth at Your Local Institution of Higher Education

Working together with POA Partners Connect can be of benefit. It is a good bet to help the sustainability of the organization. One can use PartnersConnect to look up "leadership" or "fundraising" etc.

A number of presenters offered ideas about youth exchanges, fundraising, member involvement.

One woman presented a video of a project in Viña Vieja, a town in Peru devastated by an earthquake, and which had lost many of its inhabitants moving away, because the infrastructure was destroyed. Texas-Peru Partners went there and collaborated with other organizations to build sanitary facilities, a health clinic, classroom, playgrounds. Probably the most important effect was raising the denizens' hope for the future there.

I presented stories about "what worked" for our partnership in 2012: the Autism Conferences coordinated by Hank Graden; the High-Efficiency Wood Stove project, conceived by Steve Gibson; and the Medical Surgical Team led by Carlos Vargas.

As usual, there was musical and dance entertainment. One especially outstanding performance was by Sergio Augusto, a guitarist and singer. One evening with a Brazilian drum and performing group was loud, very loud, and the police showed up due to a call from someone in an adjoining building!

USAID Expelled from Bolivia (from <http://www.bbc.co.uk/news/world-latin-america-22371275>)

Bolivian President Evo Morales has said he will expel the US Agency for International Development (USAID). Mr Morales accused the agency of seeking to "conspire against" the Bolivian people and his government. US state department spokesman Patrick Ventrell rejected the allegations as "baseless and unfounded". USAID has been working in Bolivia for almost five decades, and had a budget of $52.1m (£33.4m) for the country in 2010, according to its website. The agency said it deeply regretted Mr Morales' decision.

On previous May Days, Mr Morales had announced the nationalisation of key industries, such as hydroelectric power and the electricity grid. But on Wednesday he said he "would only nationalise the dignity of the Bolivian people".

Speaking at a rally in La Paz, the president said there was "no lack of US institutions which continue to conspire against our people and especially the national government, which is why we're going to take the opportunity to announce on this May Day that we've decided to expel USAID".

Message from the POA President in Response

From: Steve Vetter <svetter@partners.net>

Date: Thu, May 2, 2013 at 9:59 AM

Subject: RE: Evo kicks USAID out of Bolivia

And Partners keeps chugg'n along in Bolivia.... through chapters and volunteers and exchanges we keep on....keep'n on. Knowing that Steve Gibson from our North Carolina Chapter was recently in Bolivia and that the Bolivian students keep showing up in Fayetteville to study at the University of Arkansas are just two reminders of the power of Partners to build and sustain these important people to people, and organization to organization relationships.

And I want us to do more, to re-double our efforts to support them even more!

Jose Rodolfo Carvajal Sanchez Memorial Scholarship Fund Honors Outstanding International Volunteer the Partners family recently lost one of its most generous and dedicated members, Jose Rodolfo Carvajal Sanchez of Puebla, Mexico. As a Kellogg Fellow (Class V) and past International Board member, Rodolfo was a role model and a leader who embodied Partners' mission. He worked tirelessly to expand opportunities for youth and students and was committed to serving communities in Puebla and Oklahoma.

To ensure that Rodolfo's passion for youth development and international education continues to change lives, Partners of the Americas and the University of Oklahoma have partnered to create the Jose Rodolfo Carvajal Sanchez Memorial Scholarship Fund. please make your tax-deductible donation today. No amount is too small. The Scholarship will have its first disbursement in early 2014 and will be awarded for international education or research to students and professors that exhibit strong character, leadership, and participation in international activities, as well as a strong academic record.
